

Publishing in Nature Portfolio Journals

Dr. Miranda Vinay

Associate Editor

Communications Engineering

Abstract:

Dr. Miranda Vinay is an Associate Editor for Communications Engineering in the broad remit of nanoscale engineering up to construction and infrastructure. She spent 2023 on the physics team at Nature itself. This presentation gives insight into the world of research publishing from the perspective of an Editor. She will answer questions like "What do Editors do?", "What happens after I submit a paper?", and "How do I write a great research article?". The presentation will cover the differences between journals at the Nature Portfolio, the criteria that Editor's base their decisions on, and general tips for academic writing and discoverability for researchers.
